“ I am truly sorry to read of your loss. To loss anyone in death is heartbreaking. But to lose someone still in the prime of their life is really hard to swallow. I find that having the hope of welcoming back those whom I have lost in death is very comforting. They will have the opportunity to come back to an earth that is a paradise, where no one will get sick, grow old and die. We will all have the opportunity to live forever. I sincerely hope that you will be able to find these scriptural truths to be of some comfort and encouragement at this difficult time.##imported-begin##Nitisha##imported-end##

“ Dave,

I am so so sorry for your loss. I was shocked and saddened to hear the news about Lydia's death, which came far too soon. She was a good person who loved life. This is such tragic loss.

Bill and I will keep you in our prayers.
